CAA BYLAWS ARTICLE VIII: Chapters and Other Affiliates

Section 1. Any group, club, society or association with a minimum of 10% of its membership as active members of the Association and whose aims and objectives are in compliance with those of the Association may make a written application to the Board of Directors which, in its discretion may grant or deny such application.

Section 2. If the Board of Directors shall approve such applications, it shall cause to be written a letter acknowledging such action and the name of the group, club, society or association. The Association shall not sponsor or sanction events or meetings of chapters and the Association shall not be liable for any obligations of chapters, including but not limited to debts, defalcations, wrong doings, carelessness, recklessness, or any accidents caused by or permitted by any chapter or its members.

Section 3. The Association will have the right to have representation at any meeting of a chapter. The Association may organize a meeting of chapters in conjunction with a meeting of its members. Chapters shall be encouraged to name a representative to the Membership Committee.

Section 4. The revocation of a chapter charter will be at the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Association whenever the chapter will have been determined to have failed to comply with the intent of this association.

Section 5. The Board of Directors may establish other mechanisms or structures to provide opportunities to support the needs of members and further the objects of the Association.

Section 6. The Board of Directors by two thirds (2/3) vote shall establish geographical regions of the members based on number of members of the Association residing within a region.
